b. Cookies

We use cookies on the BIOTRONIK websites. Cookies are small text files or comparable storage technologies which are stored by your browser on your terminal device and allow your browser to be recognized.

We use "session" cookies (temporary or transient cookies) and "persistent" cookies.

Session cookies are only stored during your usage of our websites. Persistent cookies are permanently stored on your terminal device and are not deleted when the website is exited or the browser is closed. Persistent cookies can only be removed manually.

What are cookies used for?

- Strictly necessary cookies

Strictly necessary cookies are used to make a website usable by enabling basic functions such as site navigation and access to secure areas of the website (shopping cart cookies, cookies for logins, cookies for storage of country/language selection, cookies for using cookie consent tools). The website cannot work properly without these cookies. These cookies cannot be disabled.

You can configure your browser to block these cookies or inform you of these cookies. If you do, some parts of the website may not work.

You can view and edit how cookies are set or accessed at any time under "Cookie Settings". However, disabling cookies may limit the websites' functionality (e.g., login to certain areas).

A persistent cookie is installed by us to allow an opt-out (disabling) of cookies to be recognized and considered during future visits to our websites.

Opt-out cookies prevent the future recording of your data when visiting this website from a particular terminal device or browser and a specific domain. However, to prevent recording on different devices, the opt-out must be performed on each device/browser used.

Marketo

We use the services of the company Marketo EMEA Limited, Cairn House South County Business Park, Leopardstown, Dublin 18, Ireland, for example to send out our newsletters or invitations to events and for downloading information on our company and products.

Tracking is enabled if you manually permit images to be displayed.

YouTube

Our websites use plug-ins from the YouTube website. The operator of the sites is Google Ireland Limited, Gordon House, Barrow Street, Dublin 4, Ireland.

YouTube may receive information about visitors to our websites before they watch the video. This is because YouTube establishes a connection with the Google Double Click network regardless of whether you watch a video.

YouTube establishes a connection with the servers as soon as you start a YouTube video on our website. This informs the YouTube server which of our sites you have visited. If you are logged in to your YouTube account, you allow YouTube to assign your surfing behavior directly to your personal profile. You can prevent this by logging out of your YouTube account.

YouTube may also store various cookies on your terminal device after a video starts. YouTube can use these cookies to obtain information about visitors to our website. This information is used, among other things, to collect video statistics, improve usability and prevent fraud. The cookies remain on your terminal device until you delete them.

Other data processing operations may sometimes be triggered after the start of a YouTube video over which we have no influence.

You can find out more about data privacy at YouTube by visiting its privacy statement at: http://www.youtube.com/t/privacy\_at\_youtube.

Bing Maps

On our website we use the application "Bing Maps" by the Microsoft Corporation, One Microsoft Way, Redmond, WA 98052-6399, USA, referred to as "Microsoft" in the following, to show you service providers near your location.

Every time the application "Bing Maps" is accessed, Microsoft installs a cookie to process user settings and data when the page is displayed, into which the "Bing Maps" application is integrated. This cookie is usually not deleted by closing the browser but expires after a certain period of time, unless you delete it manually before that.

Your visit to the website provides Microsoft with the information that you have accessed the respective sub-page of our website. In addition, the data listed above are transmitted from your browser to Microsoft. This action takes place no matter whether Microsoft provides a user account through which you are logged in, or whether you have no user account. If you are logged into Microsoft, the data is directly allocated to your account. If you do not want this association with your profile at Microsoft, you must log out before pressing the button. Microsoft stores your data as usage profiles and uses it for purposes of advertisement, market research, and/or for the demand-responsive design of its services. Such an analysis is performed, even for users who are not logged in, particularly to provide demand-responsive advertisements and to inform other users of the social network about your activities on our website.

Microsoft has submitted to the EU-US privacy shield, <https://www.privacyshield.gov/EU-US-Framework>.

For more information about Microsoft Bing's privacy policy and about the used cookies, see the Microsoft website: <https://privacy.microsoft.com/de-de/privacystatement>

The legal basis for the processing of the data is your consent in accordance with Article 6 para. 1(a) GDPR.

We have no control over when the data collected by Microsoft that can be related to persons are deleted.

Double Click

We use the offers of Double Click/Google (Google LLC, 1600 Amphitheater Parkway, Mountain View, California 94043, USA) to draw attention to our offers with the help of advertising materials on external web pages. This includes the use of marketing tools to determine the successfulness of specific advertising measures (conversion tracking). Our objective is to display advertisements that are of interest to you, as well as to make our websites more appealing, and to achieve a fair calculation of advertising costs.

To support this objective, Double Click/Google cookies and web beacons are installed that measure certain parameters that assess the performance, such as display of advertisements or user clicks. These cookies are not meant to identify you personally. As long as the cookie is valid, the advertising partner can see that you have clicked on an ad and that you were directed to a particular target page (e.g., input forms, confirmation page, newsletter registration). The advertising partner uses the cookie to create conversion statistics. These statistics record the number of users who have clicked on one of our ads. It also counts how many users were directed to a target page that had been equipped with a conversion tag (re-marketing tag). However, the statistics do not contain any data that would allow you to be identified.

We ourselves do not collect and process any personal data in the listed advertising measures. Our advertising partners only provide us with statistical analyses. Based on these analyses, we can see which of the applied advertising measures are particularly effective. We do not receive any further data from the use of the advertising materials and, in particular, we cannot identify the users based on this information.

Due to the conversion tracking tools used, your browser automatically establishes a direct connection to the server of the advertising partners. We have no influence on the scope and further use of the data that is collected by the advertising partners' use of this tool. The integration of the marketing tools provides the advertising partner with information that you have called up the respective part of our internet presence or have clicked on one of our ads. If you are registered with our advertising partner (Google, for example), the advertising partner can associate the visit with your account. Even if you are not registered or have not logged in, it is possible that the provider may discover and store your IP address.

Google has submitted to the EU-US privacy shield, <https://www.privacyshield.gov/EU-US-Framework>.

For more information about Google's privacy policy, see: <http://www.google.com/intl/de/policies/privacy>.

The legal basis for the processing of the data is your consent in accordance with Article 6 para. 1(a) GDPR.

We have no control over when the data collected via DoubleClick that can be related to persons are deleted.

Twitter Ads

We use the "Twitter Ads" service to enable ads in Twitter. This also records the number of clicks per campaign. This involves numerical counting only and is wholly anonymous.

Matomo analysis

Our websites also use the Matomo web analysis service (formerly Piwik) to analyze usage of the website and improve it on a regular basis. The statistics we gather allow us to improve our offering and design it to be more interesting for you, our user.

A small part of the Matomo software is downloaded by your browser from our website. The other part of the software is operated on our server.

The following data are transmitted by the Matomo software from your browser to our server:

- Title of the requested page
- Address of the previously requested page (referrer URL)
- Screen resolution
- Plug-ins activated in your browser
- The device type used
- Files which were clicked on to download
- Clicked links to external pages

The following information, among others, is derived from the data collected:

- Approximate geographic position of the browser based on the shortened IP address
- Frequency of page views
- Duration of page visit by the browser

Immediately after receipt and prior to further processing, the Matomo software anonymizes the IP address by shortening it. This ensures that we cannot connect the data with you as a user.

To enable the transmission and derivation of the above-mentioned data, the Matomo software places persistent cookies on your terminal device via your browser as soon as you visit our websites. These cookies allow, among other things, the unambiguous recognition of your browser and are automatically deleted by your browser approximately one year after the last visit to the website. You can, as a general rule, also manually delete cookies or prevent the storage of cookies by setting your browser accordingly, regardless of the cookie settings applied on our website. As a result, we will not recognize your browser when you revisit our websites.

We use the data for the needs-oriented design of the websites.

The legal basis for the processing of the data on usage behavior is our legitimate interest in accordance with Article 6 para. 1(f) GDPR.

No data will be passed on to third parties.

Data will be deleted once they are no longer needed for the above-mentioned purposes within the scope of the legal basis upon which they were retained.
